PUBLIC COMMENT/RESPONSE LIST INDEX

Description of Comment/Response List Index

This index was created to enable commenters and other interested persons to locate the agencies responses to public comments. The Comment/Response List Index is sorted two ways; by the commenter's last name and by the comment code assigned to each comment received during the public comment period. All oral comments, as given at the public meetings, and all written comments, as submitted, were assigned comment codes. These codes were assigned to assist the agencies and the public identify and track specific comments.

Twelve people submitted written comments (comment codes W1 - W12) and ten others gave oral comments at the public meetings (comment codes T1 - T10). These comments were further divided into 106 individual comments and assigned comment codes. Copies of oral and written comments annotated with their respective comment codes are located in the administrative record.

To locate a response to a specific individual's comments, look up the last name of the individual, identify the specific comment you are looking for, then, turn to the page indicated in the Responsiveness Summary.

If, after reviewing the annotated comments, a reader wishes to locate a response to a specific comment, he/she can use the comment code to locate a response as well. The reader should identify the comment code, and page number of the response then turn to that page of the Responsiveness Summary.

Some of the comments involved multiple issues and those comments were further divided and answered in more than one place in the Responsiveness Summary. This occurred in only seven of the 109 comments.
